Ingenui-T

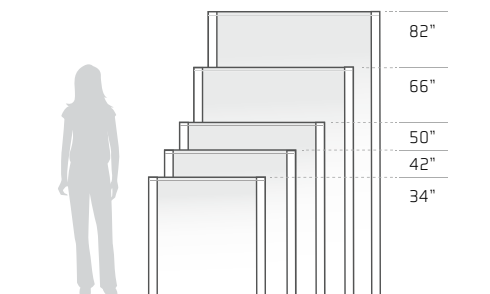

Just as atoms combine to form molecules and matter, Uni-T elements combine and recombine to shape the environment where you work. Whether your team leans toward individuality or collaboration, the Uni-T system adapts to its surroundings and lets you tailor multi-user workstations to the style, personality and needs of each person. With a vast range of options and accessories, Uni-T opens up endless possibilities for creating spaces that reflect the culture of your company.

The wide variety of colors, materials and textures coordinate and harmonize with each other to suit your brand image. Opt for metal or laminate surface supports, or an elegant combination of both.

Open pigeonhole shelves. Shared cabinets with frosted sliding doors. Practical, well-planned storage can easily be installed on the top of the mid-height panels, encouraging interaction without sacrificing efficiency.

Base panels available in various finishes:
fabric, transparent, laminate on 1 or 2 sides.

Possibili-T and Liber-T

No matter the space or purpose for which it is destined, whether for a large common zone or a small office, the Uni-T system responds to your specific needs and expectations. For open areas or enclosed offices, for multiple workstations or individual work spaces.

Elegant, modern and attractive, the design of the Uni-T system combines seamlessly with our Take Off freestanding furniture collection, Downtown collaborative furniture and all the products in the Artopex family. Quite simply, Uni-T means continuity.

The Uni-T system offers outstanding ingenuity and flexibility. The vast array of storage units lets you to choose exactly what you need. Metal pedestals, open or closed shelving, Noki keyless locks – your priorities, your choice.

Personalī-T

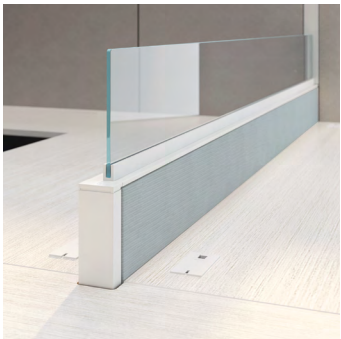

Whether your needs are more traditional or you prefer the new layering and benching trends, Uni-T is designed to be used in an infinite number of configurations.

The ingenuity of Uni-T panels and options lets you define your space to provide everyone with the privacy they need to concentrate and get the job done – but privacy that is filled with light. Let the room's natural light reach every surface by opting for clear or frosted lower panels (34", 42" or 50"), in the process making it easier for co-workers to collaborate and share information. For an "enlightened" workplace, the Uni-T system is the clear choice!

In addition to great versatility, the Uni-T system has a dynamic look that is always a breath of fresh air.
